GENERAL OFFENSE #	11-262738
UNIT FILE NUMBER	H# 11-259

That J.D. Mudd is a Detective with the Seattle Police Department and has reviewed the investigation conducted in Seattle Police Department Case Number 11-262738;

There is probable cause to believe that Louis C. Chen A/M/07-01-1972 committed the crime(s) of Murder within the City of Seattle, County of King, State of Washington.

This belief is predicated on the following facts and circumstances:

The M Street Apartments are located at 910 8th Avenue within the City of Seattle, County of King, State of Washington. On August 11, 2011 at approximately 9:10 a.m., M Street Apartments assistant property manager, [REDACTED], received a phone call from the sister of defendant Louis C. Chen, dob: 7-01-72. The defendant, victim Eric A. Cooper, dob: 3-1-82, and victim Cooper Chen, dob: 10-9-08 resided in M Street Apartments unit #1703. The defendant's sister had not heard from the defendant in some time and he was not returning the sister's calls. The sister asked [REDACTED] to go to the defendant's apartment, see if the defendant was there and if he was, ask the defendant to call her. [REDACTED] went to #1703, knocked on the door, and identified herself. She recognized the defendant's voice on the other side of the door, asking her to come back in an hour. She told him that was not necessary but that his sister was trying to get a hold of him and to please call her. The defendant said that he would.

August 11, 2011 was to be the defendant's first day of work as an endocrinologist at Virginia Mason Hospital. The defendant was to meet with Madonna Carlson, a manager at Virginia Mason, at 7:50 a.m. for orientation. The defendant did not appear. After more than an hour of waiting, Ms. Carlson became concerned. About this time, Ms. Carlson received a call from the defendant's sister. The sister provided the defendant's address to Carlson and Carlson walked to the M Street Apartments. Ms. Carlson met with [REDACTED] and explained the circumstances. [REDACTED] went back to the defendant's apartment, again knocked on the door, and heard some noise inside. She told the defendant that Carlson was in the building and was not leaving until she (Carlson) spoke with him. The defendant mumbled something, [REDACTED] responded that she did not understand, and the defendant responded "tell her to come up."

Carlson and [REDACTED] went to the 17th floor where [REDACTED] directed Carlson towards the defendant's apartment. Ms Carlson knocked on the door and heard some rustling noises that she described as being like paper or slippers sliding on a floor. Carlson tried to open the door at one point, but it was locked. Carlson knocked several times. Eventually the defendant opened the door. The defendant was wearing no clothes, he was covered in dried blood, his right eye was swollen shut, and he was holding a box in front of himself. From the door way, Carlson could see another man, later to be determined to be Eric Cooper, lying on the floor further into the apartment. She described him as wearing only boxer shorts, with his feet towards the door. Carlson asked the defendant about his son and thought that the defendant said, "baby" but wasn't sure.

Carlson called 911. The 911 operator asked Ms. Carlson if she saw any weapons and Ms Carlson said that there was a knife that she described as a square, butcher knife. The 911 operator asked her to get it away from the bodies and Carlson kicked it into the kitchen area of the unit.

Police responded to the scene. Officers Miller and McDonald arrived at the apartment at approximately 10:20 a.m. and observed the defendant slumped down by the front door of the apartment. Officer McDonald entered the apartment and checked victim Eric Cooper but could not find any signs of life. Officer McDonald noted several stab wounds on Cooper's torso. Officer Miller continued to the back of the unit where she found victim Cooper Chen obviously dead in the empty master bathroom's bathtub. As the officers were leaving the unit Officer McDonald noticed the defendant moving his head and eyes. Officer Miller escorted Ms Carlson downstairs. Officer McDonald nudged the defendant and asked for his name. The defendant responded "Louis Chen". McDonald then asked for clarification by asking, "Chin or Chen?" The defendant then spelled his last name for Officer McDonald. Officer McDonald asked the defendant, "Who did this?" The defendant responded, "What?" Officer McDonald then asked, "Stabbed you and him." The defendant then looked at McDonald and said, "I did."

Seattle fire arrived and Officer McDonald directed the medics to begin treating the defendant first. Other firefighter/medics checked the condition of Eric Cooper and Cooper Chen and pronounced them dead. The Seattle Police Department Homicide Unit was called and the scene secured.

Acquaintances of the defendant report that they had not from him since Monday August 8, 2011. The M Street Apartments at 910 8th Avenue is a lock-out building which requires electronic key access to gain entry into the building and elevators. A printout of the two access "Fobs" assigned to Apartment # 1703 for August 2011 show the last electronic entry on August 8, 2011 around 3:30 in the afternoon. No 911 calls had been placed since that time from Apartment #1703 or by its residents saved for the call by Madonna Carlson.

A total of five knives potentially used during the attack were found in the apartment. The butcher knife that was kicked aside by Ms Carlson was found in the kitchen. A blade, broken off from the handle, of a large kitchen knife was in the living room area. A handle without a blade was found in the guest bedroom.

7 REQUEST FOR BAIL

8 As this is a capital case, the State requests that no bail be set. The defendant poses a 9 significant risk of flight as he faces either life imprisonment or the death penalty, has significant 10 ties to Taiwan, and has access to financial means sufficient to arrange his flight. Furthermore,
11 the defendant poses a significant risk of danger to the community based upon the serious
12 penalties he faces combined with his exhibited willingness to use extreme violence. No bail
13 should be set.
